A Comprehensive Plan for PARK

Philosophy

Promotion

Take ownership of, craft, and share Park's story to accurately demonstrate how the School lives its values.

Commit to strategically leverage the school's resources to create additional revenue streams that defray the costs of its core educational programming.

Pipeline

Articulate and ensure that the distinctive educational principles of our School, which are more relevant than ever for young people as they face the challenges of the 21st century, are understood by all and influence everything we do.

Each of the six tenets informs the others; all are essential to the success of the Plan for PARK.

Devote requisite resources to the design and maintenance of the campus and its buildings so that they support Park's programmatic offerings and can be leveraged for additional revenue.

Physical Plant

Program

Align and support all programs to ensure they promote critical thinking and academic excellence, while carrying out the school's mission and giving our students a rich, comprehensive experience.

People

Deliberately nurture a diverse and inclusive school community and install administrative and financial structures to attract talented students, staff, faculty and trustees.

PHILOSOPHY • PROGRAM • PEOPLE

Strategic Goal One:

Utilize the school's historic educational principles and practices intentionally in all that we do to deliver a distinctive education dedicated to problem posing and problem solving and maintain a community that is diverse and inclusive.

Objective One: Refine our definition of who we are as a school.

ACTION ITEMS:

- Update the mission statement to reference the school's pedagogic philosophy more explicitly.
- Emphasize the aims and goals of Park's educational program on all school collateral.
- · Create a new tagline that aligns with the school's philosophy.

Objective Two: Expand and strengthen Park's role as a national and local thought leader in experiential educational practices and philosophy.

ACTION ITEMS:

- Host an annual John Dewey Workshop, open to the public and other schools.
- Annually send two faculty members to the John Dewey Society Conferences.
- Implement progressive education principles into faculty evaluations, new faculty orientation, and ongoing professional development and faculty mentoring.

Objective Three: Evaluate, align, and support the educational, recreational, and extra-curricular programs at Park to ensure they are deliberately designed to carry out the mission and follow the historic, founding principles of our School.

ACTION ITEMS:

- Create a whole-school curriculum map that shows how each grade progresses to the next and how the campus is integrated into Park's academic offerings.
- Enhance our college counseling program to expand best fit opportunities for graduating seniors.
- Expand interscholastic and intramural athletic teams and fitness and health offerings.
- Introduce training and implementation structure to use new modes of technology in the curriculum.
- Expand Upper School electives to appeal to a variety of student interests and prepare them for college-level work.
- Strengthen Middle School identity.
- Expand emotional and mental health training and support capacity for students and faculty.

Objective Four: Deliberately nurture a diverse and inclusive school community.

ACTION ITEMS:

- Address tuition affordability to increase access.
- Plan and execute strategies for purposeful alumni engagement.
- Adjust staff and faculty salaries so that they are competitive with local public and private schools. Add additional incentives such as childcare and lunch.
- Implement comprehensive Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging plans to support the whole child development in an equitable and inclusive environment.
- Create structures for cross-divisional faculty engagement.
- Recruit, support, and retain staff from diverse backgrounds, emphasizing those from racial/ethnic communities which have been historically marginalized.

PHYSICAL PLANT

Strategic Goal Two:

Fully utilize Park's 34-acre campus as an integral component of our educational mission.

Objective One: Commit substantial resources to the design and maintenance of our campus as a complex of instructional settings aligned with the scope and sequence of the educational and extra-curricular programs.

ACTION ITEMS:

- Increase maintenance staff to three full-time members.
- Increase annual maintenance and cleaning budget to ensure aesthetics, functionality, and hygiene of buildings.
- Retain expert landscaper to maintain gardens, pond, and meadows.
- Retain architectural firm to design performing and visual arts spaces, new classrooms, and renovation of Hamlin Hall.
- Leverage and enhance existing capacity of two gyms, tennis courts, and soccer fields to increase sports offerings and rental capacity.
- Commence strategic plant upgrade and renovation projects

PIPELINE • PROMOTION

Strategic Goal Three:

Ensure sustainability.

Objective One: Create a sustainable business model for Park to ensure the school's financial stability now and in the future.

ACTION ITEMS:

- Develop a Comprehensive Campaign based on the goals of this plan to increase the school's endowment to $10 million and raise funds to implement strategic plant upgrades and additions.
- Strategically leverage Park's resources to create additional revenue streams to defray the costs of its core educational programming including but not limited to public school, wedding venue, and soccer organization partnerships, and a basketball Post-Graduate year.

Objective Two: Proudly promote our unique brand in order to become synonymous with educational excellence and innovation, producing organizational sustainability and impactful outcomes for our students.

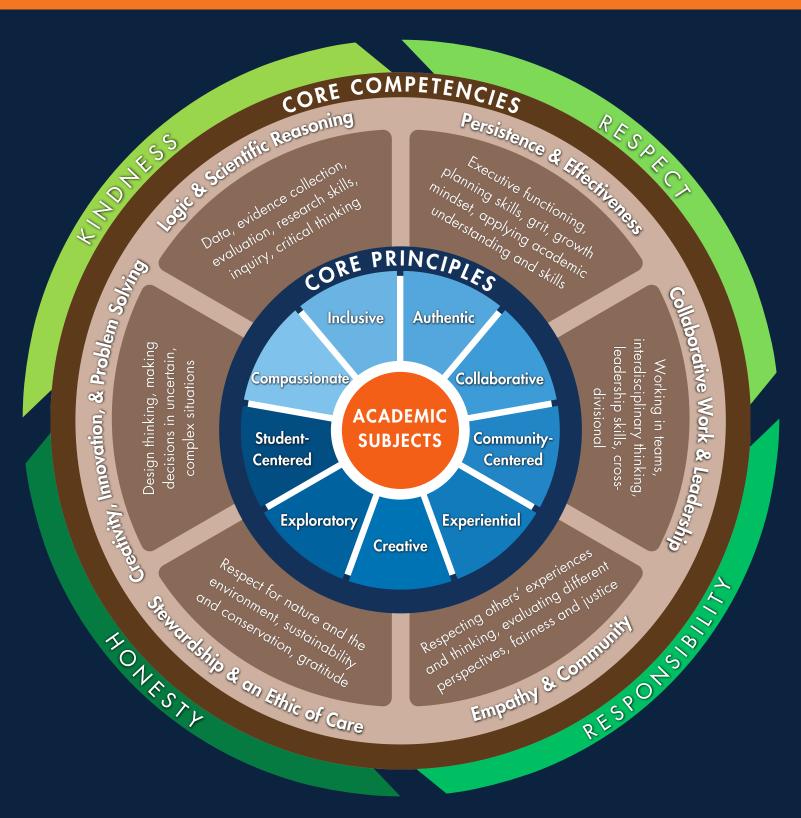

ACTION ITEMS:

- Promote the Strategic Plan and report on progress to all Park constituencies as well as the Western New York community.
- Enhance our marketing and communications efforts to include updating the school's website, creating new marketing materials, producing a promotional Park video, and continuing to refine messaging using data and social media strategies.

Education Model

Providing a rich, meaningful, varied and challenging educational experience for all students.
